

The Montgomery College Foundation was ranked ninth in the nation in philanthropy among community colleges in the Voluntary Support for Education report in 2016. The Foundation raised over $5 Million in cash and pledges and provided over $2 Million in scholarships to MC students that year.

In 2014, Montgomery College was honored by Montgomery County Executive Isiah Leggett with a National Association of Counties (NaCo) Achievement Award. The award recognized the College's partnership with the Montgomery County Correctional Facility (MCCF), bringing College programs to the residents of correctional facilities within the County.

Nancy Nuell, director of grants and sponsored programs at Montgomery College was awarded the 2015 Campus Impact Award from the Council for Resource Development, the national organization for community college development professionals. Nuell led the successful effort to secure a $15 million grant from the US Departments of Labor and Education. The Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training (TAACCCT) grant is the single largest award in the College's history .

Karla Silvestre was honored on November 20, 2014 by Crittenton Services of Greater Washington, the premier organization serving low-income teenage girls in public schools within Montgomery County, MD and Washington, DC. Silvestre, who is the director of community engagement at Montgomery College, was recognized for her contributions to the community and leadership on issues crucial to the healthy development of teen girls.

Jill Fitzgerald, writer, and Krista Hansen, graphic designer, were honored by The National Council for Marketing and Public Relations which recognizes excellence in community, technical and junior college marketing and public relations activities; Jill Fitzgerald won for her Insights feature story, "The Raptor Takes Flight,". Fitzgerald was also awarded a silver medallion award (feature article/general news) for her story on alumnus Peter Frechette. Krista Hansen won for two design entries: a brochure series for the CAT department (photography, graphic design, and communication and broadcast technology) as well as her Fall Arts Calendar. Insights Magazine won for Brochure/Flyer and Series Magazine.

Montgomery College Television (MCTV) MCTV received over 75 awards from the following various organizations, including: The Alliance for Community Media, Telly, Emmy, NATOA and Communicator Awards. Awards are presented to creative programs that address community needs, develop diverse community involvement, challenge conventional commercial television formats and move viewers to experience television in a different way. This is a partial list since 2013.
